21. M: Which one is Henry's new girlfriend?
W: He said she has long brown hair.
M: But there are three women with long brown hair in this photo.
W: He also said she has a round face.
M: Oh, that must be the one in white. Wow! She is tall and beautiful.
Q: Which one is Henry's new girlfriend?
22. G: John, why are you collecting glass bottles?
B: My mom said the one who collects the most glass bottles will be free from doing the dishes for a month.
G: Now I know why I saw Sally looking for glass bottles in the trash cans yesterday.
B: What?! She started yesterday. I have to be faster.
Q: Why is John collecting glass bottles?
23. M: Good morning, Mrs. Lin. What are you looking for today?
W: I need some noodles.
M: I see. Look what I've got today. I have noodles which come in colors like red, green, and orange.
W: I'm not interested in noodles with colors. They are not healthy. I don't want them.
M: Actually, they are made from vegetables. They are healthy and natural.
W: Really? Maybe I can give them a try.
Q: What changed Mrs. Lin's mind at last?
24. W: You know what? I did something good this morning.
M: Oh? What was it?
W: A man came to me and said he needed some money to go home by train because his mother was sick. I wanted to help him, so I gave him NT$50.
M: Is he a man with a big nose?
W: Yes. How do you know that?
M: He does the same thing to everyone on the street every day. It's clear that he never goes home for his sick mother.
W: What? I can't believe it.
Q: How might the woman feel at the end of the dialogue?
25. [Phone beeping]
(W:) Hi, Mr. Huang. This is Lucy. It was a pleasure to meet you today. Thank you for signing the book for me. You're not only a successful businessman but also a good writer. I really learned a lot from your book. In your book, you said you loved the snacks in Yilan, so I sent some to you and your secretary, Mr. Chen. You can taste them and tell me which one you like best.
Q: Who is Mr. Huang?

26. M: Let's go to another supermarket for some fruit.

W: Why don't you get some here?

M: Because the fruit and vegetables here don't look good, and they are more expensive.

W: No wonder there are fewer people in this area.

Q: What do we know about this supermarket?

27. M: I'm going to buy four bottles of orange juice for Andy's birthday.

W: Let's buy these ones. I saw them on TV, and today they have a buy one get one free sale.

M: How much does one bottle cost?

W: 150 dollars, which means we'll pay only 300 dollars to get four bottles.

M: I don't think that's a good deal. Look at this one in my hand. It costs only 70. Let's get four bottles of this.

W: All right.

Q: How much are they going to pay in total?

28. B: Grandma, your pies are the best! Could I have one more?

W: Of course. I made all of them for you.

B: The pie I am having tastes a little different. Did you put apples in it as usual?

W: No, but I added pears to make it sweeter. Do you like it?

B: It's good, but I like the way you used to make pies more.

Q: What are the pies that the boy likes more?

29. M: Honey, I've bought the things you need.

W: Thanks. Can you put them in the kitchen?

M: I know the beef should be kept in the top drawer of the fridge, but what about the pumpkin and peaches?

W: Just put them on the dining table. I'll put them away later. Did you buy the tomatoes that I need for the soup?

M: No. All of the tomatoes in the supermarket look terrible, and they cost $300 a kilogram.

W: I think that's because the typhoon is coming. Anyway, the food we have is enough for us to stay home for a few days.

Q: Why didn't the man buy any tomatoes at the supermarket?

30. (W:) Good evening, everyone. This is reporter Kate Louis from KK News. The police have caught the man who cheated twenty people out of their money last night. The police found there were 300,000 dollars in his apartment, and the money was all from those people that he cheated. He set up a shop on the Internet to sell smartphones at low prices. However, after he got the money from the customers, he changed his phone number so that nobody could reach him. Please be very careful when you place an order on the Internet.

Q: Why was the man caught by the police?
